1. 以下の A)、B) の英文の下線部を日本語にしてください。

A) Japanese schoolchildren are taught how to practice self-criticism both in order to improve their relations with others and to become more skilled in solving problems. This stance of perfectionism through self-criticism continues throughout life. Sushi chefs and math teachers are not regarded as coming into their own until they’ve been at their jobs for a decade. Throughout their careers, in fact, Japanese teachers are observed and helped by their peers to become better at their jobs. Contrast this with the American practice of putting teachers’ college graduates into the classroom after a few months of training and then leaving them alone to succeed or not, to the good or ill fortune of a generation of students.

B) Before Ms. Takaichi’s election, it was almost impossible to think of a prominent female politician who actually carried a bag. Several recent female leaders did not. Generally, the more important the person, the smaller the bag. Now Ms. Takaichi is changing the calculus. Emi Kameoka, the fashion director of Vogue Japan, said that Ms. Takaichi’s bag serves to underscore her image as a professional woman and reinforces her campaign promise to “work and work and work and work.” It can hold both files and tablets, and it telegraphs elegance and utility.

2. 以下の A)、 B) の和文を英語にきなさい。

A) 地球の美しさと神秘を感じとれる人は、科学者であろうとなかろうと、人生に飽きて疲れたり、孤独にさいなまれることはけっしてないでしょう。

B) 「コミュニケーションの最大の問題は、それがうまくいっていると思ひ込むことだ」という言葉がある。人は自分の伝える力を高く見積もりがちだが、実際には他人の立場を十分に考えていないことも多い。その原因は、伝わっていないのに伝わったと思ひ込んでしまうことと、自分の本当の気持ちを自分自身でも十分に理解できていないことにある。
